New Horizons 21. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 314 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.0in. x 0.7in. A collection of sermons around the theme of the tremendous opportunities available when the power of one is harnessed. Years ago, out of an interest in the achievements of culturally diverse ministry teams in the Church of the Nazarene, I expressed interest in meeting Dr. Oliver Phillips. A common friend introduced us to one another. The conversation that followed was as warm as a Caribbean and an African can make it, requiring no practice of wait to see how far you may go. However, I did not know him as a preacher until two years later, when we met again as participants of a Holiness Conference held in Africa. In that setting, Dr. Phillips poured out his heart about his personal journey with the merciful Savior. What a passionate, enthusiastic, practical, convincing, forthright expositor of the Word of God (and hard for any good interpreter to put up with in terms of body language)! After his first sermon at the conference, everywhere Dr. Phillips went among the Nazarenes in town, I saw his many new friends trying to mimic his bending forward and backward, as only he can do to explain his personal experience of the work of Gods grace. Everywhere, we heard the words: mymymymy repeated, as to say one can never reach the depth of such grace and its power to redeem, cleanse, and release. Such a one is the preacher I read in this book. His prophetic voice ministers to the church of the 21st century. He just cannot hide the, Thus saith the LORD of hosts that rings through his ears, heart, and mind. The message is current and factual and escorts our attention to the real world in which we...
