Excerpt: .uniting to indomitable courage the great advantages of exact military knowledge, the result of long experience. After the wound of Major Brown, the command of the fort devolved upon Captain Hawkins, of the 7th infantry. Large parties of mounted Mexican infantry were now seen in the rear of the fort, and the impression was that, having cannonaded the fort so long, the enemy were now about to attempt it by assault. These parties were scattered with canister, but a shower of shells followed for an hour or two. A parley was then sounded by the assailants, and a white flag displayed. Two Mexican officers advanced, and were received by two Americans, who bore to Captain Hawkins a communication from General Arista. The Mexican commander assured the Americans that General Taylor could not reach them to give them succour; and that in one hour s time, if they did not surrender, they would be put to the sword. He begged them, therefore, for humanity s sake, to surrender. After a brief consultation, at which the officers were unanimous in their determination to defend the place to the death, the following answer was returned to the summons of Arista: Head-quarters, United States Forces, Near Matamoras, May 6, 1846, 3 o clock, P. M. ) Sir: --Your humane communication has just been received, and after the consideration due to its importance, I must respectfully decline to surrender my forces to you. The exact purport of your despatch I...
